What is Immediate Life Support (ILS):

ILS is a new course co-badged by the Australian Resuscitation Council (ARC) and the UK Resuscitation Council. This course follows the 2010 ARC guidelines and a+a Training is an endorsed training provider.

Who is it for:

ILS is ideally suited for health care staff who workers who require the skills of initial management of the patient in cardiac arrest. This course is not designed for team leaders of the resuscitation team, but for team members and people exposed to patients (ie. nursing staff, paramedics, junior doctors and allied health professionals)

Course Objectives:

- Update and reflect on Australian Resuscitation Guidelines
- Causes and prevention of cardiopulmonary arrest
- Systematic ABCDE approach to patient assessment
- Basic ECG rhythm recognition and management
- Defibrillation - manual, AED and safety
- Airway management
- Initial management of the patient in cardiac arrest until the resuscitation team arrives
- Introduction to the first-line drugs

Other Courses a+a Training Offer:

- Immediate Life Support
- Advanced Life Support
- Minor Injuries Workshop
- IV Cannulation and Venepuncture
